

Contributors

JOSE S. ARCILLA, S.J. is the archivist of the Philippine Jesuit Province and professor of history at the Ateneo de Manila University. He holds a doctorate from the Universidad Complutense de Madrid. Among his published works is An Introduction to Philippine History.

MA. LOURDES S. BAUTISTA is a Ph. D. in Linguistics from the Ateneo PNC (Philippine Normal College) consortium. She had post-doctoral training in Socio-Linguistics at Georgetown University, Washington D.C. and University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia. She is presently associate professor of English language and literature at De La Salle University. She is director of Research Dissemination of the Integrated Research Center of De La Salle University.

JAIME BULATAO, S.J. is clinical psychologist and professor in the Department of Psychology, Ateneo de Manila University, and has been three times president of the Psychological Association of the Philippines. A companion piece to the present article is his previous study, "The New Mysticism," which appeared in the Major Religious Superiors journal, Witness (1981).

SUSAN EVANGELISTA is an associate professor of the Department of English, and holder of the Donelan Chair in Humanities. She has a Ph.D. in Philippine Studies from the University of the Philippines.

JOSEPH A. GALDON, S.J., a regular Philippine Studies contributor, is an associate editor of this journal, presently on sabbatical leave from the university.

SR. M. SOLEDAD HILADO, O.S.B. is the directress of St. Scholastica's Academy, Bacolod City, and executive director of the Association of Benedictine schools.

RITA H. MATARAGNON is chairman and associate professor in the Department of Psychology, Ateneo de Manila University. She is consultant of the Population Center Foundation and holds a doctorate from the University of the Philippines.

JAMES J. MEANY, S.J. is acting editor of this journal during the sabbatical leave of Fr. Joseph L. Roche. Fr. Meany is professor emeritus of Education of the Ateneo de Manila University.

LUCIANO P.R. SANTIAGO is a psychiatrist in private practice at the Medical City General Hospital, Greenhills, Metro Manila. He has published several articles in psychiatry and various aspects of Philippine history and culture.

JOHN N. SCHUMACHER S.J., noted historian and author, holds a doctorate from Georgetown University. He has published widely both here and abroad, in Philippine history; among his more recent is Revolutionary Clergy: The Filipino Clergy and the Nationalist Movement, 1850-1903 (Quezon City, 1981). He is professor of church history at Loyola School of Theology, Ateneo de Manila.

WILLIAM HENRY SCOTT is professorial lecturer of history at the University of the Philippines and currently teaching at St. Andrew's Theological Seminary. He is well-known for his scholarly writings on the mountain peoples of Northern Luzon.